The Intelligencer.

Proceedings of the Sunday School Institute Held in the M. E. Church, Moundaville, W. Va., on Saturday, November 28, 1874.

Editors Intelligencer:

Institute opened by singing "Welcome the Beautiful Day." Prayer by Rev. L.
L. Stewart, of Benwood. Singing. Address of welcome by Rev. W. O. Wilson. The address was short and pointed. Words of welcome were given to all present, and all were urged to take an active part in the proceedings. He being chairman ex officio, proceeded to the organization of the Institute. F. H. Crago was elected Secretary, and Rev. J. Alexander, D. D., was chosen Vice President.

Brother Walter Evans read a paper, subject: "Old and New Sunday Schools Editors Intelligence

Broner Waiter Evans read a paper; subject: "Old and New Sunday Schools Contrasted." The paper was very interesting, and was listened to attentively. He gave the origin of the Sunday School, giving the honor to a woman in England instead of Robert Raikes, to whom the honor is measurily extinuted. He showed. honor is generally attributed. He showed in an interesting manner how rapid has been the growth of the cause, and gave statistics in support of his argument. He speke of the first introduction of the Sabbath School into Marshall county, showing the increased advantages which children now support to what the oblibbath is a support of the same sup dren now esjoy to what the children of those days did, &c., &c.

The subject was further discussed by Dr. Alexander, Rev. Stewart, B. B. New-man and Rev. Wilson. The "question drawer" was opened and several queries were read and dis-

The subject was well treated. The well treated. The true teacher should be a christian, should have a knowledge of the Bible and know how to impart it. He should make the Bible a daily study, and should make use of all the helps possible. "Actions speak louder than words," therefore, the teacher should lead a holy life, &c. The subject was further discussed by Rev. Stewart, F. H. Crago, Rev. Evans, J. A. Ewing, Eeq, and B B Nowman. A blackboard exercise was conducted by F. H. Crago.

Rev. Dr. Alexander of the Presbyterian Church next addressed the audience. Subject: "The Relations of the Ministry to the Sunday School." The minister is bound by a solemn row to be faithful to the church. He is the shepherd of the flock. and should make use of all the help church. He is the shepherd of the flock. It is his duty to feed the lambs. If he neglects this duty he will soon have no flock. The children must soon take the place of the fathers and mothers in Israel. They must then, like Timothy, be trained up in the doctrines of the Bible. It is the duty of the missister one that the reserved duty of the minister to see that the parents send their children to the Sanday School, that they are taught in the true doctrines of the church. The word of God slone is infallible. We believe in the infallibility of no Council or no Pope. The Sunday School of to-day is a glorious institution, and aflords great facilities for religious instruction. We have faith in the piety of our fathers, but to day more is needed more is demanded of us than was of them All our missionaries come from the Sun day School. How important then that the day School. How important then that the minister, the paster of the flock, should be in the Standay School every sabbath if possible. He should, where it is possible for him to do so—though it is not possible for him to do so when his other duties are too onerous. But finally, he should above all things see that the lambs of the flock are not led away from the green pastures and from beside the still waters.

The subject was somewhat further dis cussed by Rev. S. S. Stewart and W.

Evans.
After singing, Rev. S. S. Stewart delivered a short address on the subject,
"The duty of adults to the Sunday School." Ist. It is their duty to organize a Sabbath School if one is not already organized. There should be one in every community, and it is surely the duty of the sdults of a community to organize one. 2d. They should go to Sabbath 2d. They should go to Sabbath School; the excuse that we are too old to go is a poor one. We are never too old to learn from the truths of the Bible. 31. tion in the Sabbath School. If it is the duty of the parent to see that his child attends the parent to see that his child attends the day school, how much more their duty to see that it attends the Sab-bath School. Moral and religious train-ing is paramount to all other training. It is a sin to neglect the Sunday School if we can possibly go.

The subject was discussed by Bros, Walter Evans, F. H. Crago, W. C. Wilson, W. Corbly, W. W. Evans, J. A. Ewing and G. D. Buchanan, all agreeing in the main with the speaker. The discussion was very spicy.

The committee appointed in the atternoon reported in favor of holding a County S. S. Institute December 29, 30 and 31 After much discussion and several proposed amendments it was laid on the table The Question Drawer was opened from which were taken many pertinent questions relating to the Sauday School work. They were read and discussed in a lively manner. The Institute adjourned at nine o'clock, closing by singing the leng meter develops and the heardestlong meter doxology, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. L. L. Stewart.

The lestitute was surely a success, al-though the disagreeableness of the weath-er prevented many from coming who would no doubt otherwise have been there. Some pronounced the meeting lease. For example, a common laborer, or mechanic, who can command money enough to build a house, instead of buying a lot upon which to build, leases it. If the lot be worth $1,000, he pays annually lorever a ground rent of $60. It he builds a house that costs him $1,000, as money hers is 6 per cent; this makes his house rent practically only $190 a year. This is, in effect, to loan him forever the value of the lot at 6 per cent. If the lot advances in value he has the benefit of it, since, if he wishes to sell, he disposes of his house at its market value, and the ground lease at its enhanced price. This encourages men of small means to live in their own houses. As a consequence, there are no men of small means to live in their own houses. As a consequence, there are no tenement houses, actual rents are comparatively unknown, and a larger proportion of the people own their houses than perhaps in any other city in the world. This secures a staid, thrility population, and, with a mild climate, cheap fuel, cheap food, and cheap clothing, gives Baltimore a great advantage as a manufacturing city.

She left a little note, which may thus be translated: "I have not the strengh to live without love, which depends on loveliness. I cannot be lovely after having the small-pox, and I preferdeath to hideousness. I ask my husband's forgiveness. I am sure he would rather be the widower of a handsome woman than the husband of afright. You who love me, pray for and pardon me.",

-Young man, you feel a superiority to the whole human race as you stand at the altar with your fair young bride. You would not change places with the President. Yet a few short years, a few President: Yet a few short years, a few whiskings of broom-handles, an untimely stoppage or two of wated flatirons, and your weary body will rest under the awaying willow, while some young gallant will bringlyour late afficted partner out to the cemetry on calm Sabbath evenings and whisper love in her ear, as together they strew peanut-shells over your grave. "Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?"—Exchange.

He went for Victoria, carried the crib up stairs, rought up a tray of tea things, and made brought up a tray of tea tanga, and made himself useful in many ways. And then he was sent out of the room, and Mrs. Edinburg and her ms had the usual "talk." Edinburg liegered near the door until he heard his wife's mother say: "Out all night"—"The villian"—"Oh, it I'd known of this"—"The ruffian!" And then he left.

though the disagreeableness of the weather prevented many from coming who come there is no doubt otherwise have been there. Some pronounced the meeting a failure, but we think most surely that they do not rightly appreciate such work. If nothing else, the awaken ing of thought from the discussion of the various questions coming before the Institute will well repay for the time spent. We contend that the Institute, and the Convention are just as essential to the success of the Sabbath School, as they are beneficial to the day school, and the time is not far distant when it will be so acknowledged by all. We hope to see many more such meetings held in Moundaville, and expect even this one to be a great benefit to our Sunday Schools.

Real Estate in Baltimore.—In the matter of real estate Baltimore is peculiar. Its slow and uniform growth has led to a very general system of leasing land for "ninety-nine years, renewable for ever," at an annual ground rent of 6 per cent on its market value at the date of the lease. For example, a common laborer, or mechanic, who can command money enough to build a house, instead of buying a lot upon which to build, leases it. If
